HAIR TELLS CHARACTER.

Color of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.

Many people believe that blonde, or light hair denotes affection and dark hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character; far from it. The disposition of the average bald-headed man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others, that he neglects himself. A germ causes baldness. Prof. Sabouraud, of Paris, France, inoculated a rabbit with Dandruff germs, causing it to become totally bald in five weeks' time. To rid the scalp of these dangerous germs it is necessary to apply Newbro's Herpicide.

"Destroy the cause—you remove the effect."

For sale by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Venezuela Preparing for War.

A dispatch from Willemstad, Island of Curacoa, says that a traveler who arrived there yesterday from Venezuela said:

"President Castro is busily engaged in enlisting throughout the republic and in other ways preparing for war. Generals in each State have been commissioned, and orders have been given to call the recruits to the colors. Information from the best sources indicates that the people do not support President Castro. On all sides are heard expressions of a desire to revolt and overthrow the President's government as soon as the French blockade is declared. A well-informed Venezuelan told me that the troops will desert their colors, as they have all been compelled to join the army, voluntary enlistment being unknown in Venezuela. Puerto Cabello and La Guaira are the only ports capable of making a slight defense. The former has two modern 6-inch guns, and the latter has four modern 6-inch guns, with the usual display of old Spanish pieces, which would be blown to pieces at the first shots. It is doubted whether President Castro can raise more than 16,000 men who will take the field with any show of spirit. The men are armed with Mauser rifles, but they never practice shooting. They have 20,000,000 rounds of ball cartridges and a few mountain guns. The Venezuelan navy consists of five small craft concentrated at La Guaira. It is reported at Caracas that the American Minister, Mr. W. W. Russell, is persona non grata, owing to the seeming siding of the United States with France, and that he may be given his passports. The German charge d'affaires indignantly contradicts the reports, said to be circulated by President Castro and others of his surrounding, that Germany is supporting Venezuela's policy against France. General Alcantara, a Venezuelan, educated at West Point, has been appointed to the military command of La Guaira. He has received orders to fire on any French warships the moment they are sighted."

Fatal Affray in Savannah.

Political partisans of the two rival factions of Savannah, Ga., had a pistol fight yesterday afternoon in front of the city exchange. "Babe" Dyer was killed; Frank Nagel, a bystander, was shot through the eye, and is in a critical condition; Pat Kearney, a policeman off duty at the time, was shot through the neck, and C. H., or "Sap," Dyer was shot twice through the legs. "Snatcher" Dyer and Thomas Hewitt, a private detective, are under arrest. Besides those under arrest or wounded, those who participated in the shooting were Harbormaster James McBride, his son, Tim McBride, who is a clerk in his father's office; Plumbing Inspector Richard McKenna, and James Lane, keeper of the police stables. It is not known definitely who fired the shots by which the killed and wounded were struck. The shooting was general and about forty shots were fired. The battle started when the three Dyers attacked McKenna, one felling him with a billy. The others came to the assistance of McKenna. There had been a fight earlier in the day in the courthouse, when McKenna beat "Babe" Dyer with a billy. This had followed a fight in the courthouse on Wednesday last, when two of the Dyer brothers fought Police Patrol Driver Monroe. Half a dozen pistols were then drawn, but no blood was shed.

Trouble at a Hospital.

Considerable interest is being manifested in the trouble at the Mary Washington Hospital, in Fredericksburg, which grew out of the discharge of all of the young lady nurses by the board of managers for insubordination. The trouble first began a week ago, when a colored woman was taken to the institution for treatment. There is no colored ward in the hospital. All of the nurses refused to nurse her, and the head nurse had to take the case in hand and nurse the patient until she was able to leave the institution. The main trouble seems to have arisen over the discharge of a boy who was employed by the directors to make and keep in order the fires. Thinking nothing of this, and expecting that a new boy would be employed, the nurses brought up the wood from the cellar and made and kept the fires in order. When they found that a new boy would not be employed to do the work, but that they would have to continue the work, they rebelled. Consequently they were discharged. It is said that some of the nurses had made themselves very objectionable to some of the patients at the institution. The staff is now composed of the head nurse and a young lady who recently entered the institution. It is understood that an entire new corps of nurses will be secured.

Old Woman Convicted of Murder.

Sarah Jones, a seventy-year-old woman was convicted of murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer at Philadelphia yesterday for the killing of her foster-daughter's child within a few hours after it was born. The case is a pathetic one, and excited the sympathies not only of the lawyers on each side, but also those of the trial judge and the jury. Mrs. Mary Jones, the mother of the dead child, and Frank Jones, the son of the aged woman, are also under indictment for complicity in the murder. The evidence produced at the trial shows that when the child was born the grandmother asked the attending physician to chloroform the babe, which he promptly declined to do. The doctor notified the police of his suspicions, and an investigation showed that the child had been asphyxiated with the deadly drug. Judge Ralston, in discharging the jury, said their verdict was a proper one and compelled by the evidence, however painful it had been for them to do so. He had no doubt, he said, that counsel for the defendant would present the case to the board of pardons, and that it is not unlikely that the circumstances of the case may be such as to appeal to the board's discretion to commute the sentence of death to imprisonment.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

SATURDAY EVENING, FEB. 10, 1906.

THE FACULTY of Depauw University, at Greencastle, Indiana, the oldest Methodist institution of learning in the West, has dropped the study of the Bible from the list of required subjects and placed it in the elective class. This institution was organized and has been sustained by Methodists throughout the country as an adjunct to the church, and the study of the Bible has always been one of the required branches, and graduation, both for males and females, was impossible without it. Times change and people change with them. We seem to live in an age when Bible study is not only neglected but those who "contend for the faith once delivered unto the saints" are looked upon with suspicion. The comfort of the scriptures has ever been regarded as one of pearls of great price by Methodists, as well as by myriads of persons of evangelical denominations, and the action of the Depauw University will not entirely relegate the Book of Books to the shelf. It is often said by the observant that notwithstanding the fact that fast presses and typesetting machines have flooded the world with literature, the appetite of the present generation for solid reading is waning continually. Comparatively few read standard books. The cheap magazines and voluminous Sunday papers afford most of the intellectual food of the day; hence the Bible and ancient and modern history are read less than at any time since the discovery of printing. The wheels of life may be moving faster in these than in preceding days, but that the world, according to an old saw, is growing wiser may be questioned.

THE SONG "Everybody Works but Father," has caused a man in Des Moines to attempt to end life's transient dream. This individual, driven to destruction by the sonnet, concluded he could stand it no longer, and accordingly jumped overboard. He was rescued and brought before the Police Court, and upon being asked for an explanation said he could bear the taunt of the song no longer, and preferred to drown his sorrows in the river. The above incident may cause the strains of this torturing song to be used on some others in other parts of the country who suppose they have reached an age when they can pass the evening of life is indolence. No class of people is held in greater contempt by the energetic of this world than those who make themselves unnecessary burdens upon their offspring. When the grandfamilias has reached a time in life when he can no longer toil or spin but few children would object to making his declining years pleasant, but the fact that many men deliberately quit work as soon as their progeny are old enough to keep potatoes in the cellar is made apparent in too many instances. Such a class almost invariably lose the respect of their children as soon as they get old enough to look at such things logically. It is said that Dickens in portraying "Mr. Micawber," one of his famous characters, was describing his own father. The song referred to above is a home thrust at many in different parts of the country. It may not drive all at whom it is aimed to suicide, but it is calculated to make such feel cheap and may cause some to shake off a lethargy into which they should never have fallen.

THE report of the Internal Revenue Bureau for the last fiscal year shows that beer is increasing in popularity among the consumers of alcoholic beverages, while whisky is on the decline. The consumption of beer increased 1,251,407 barrels, while that of whisky decreased 704,040 gallons. At the same time, the decrease of fruits spirits amounted to 42,282 gallons. It seems to be the case the world over that as the consumption of beer increases that of whisky decreases. This is not to be regretted. The harsh laws regulating the manufacture of fruits spirits is the cause assigned for the falling off in the production of such liquors. Indeed it seems hard that a man is not allowed to make a few gallons of wine or brandy for his own family's use from the grapes, peaches and apples grown upon his own land, without coming into contact with the internal revenue laws and the officers thereof.

IN the House on Thursday when the pension bill was passed, Mr. Gardner compared this pension roll of $140,000,000 to that of France, with an annual expenditure of $26,000,000; Germany, $21,000,000; Austria-Hungary, $10,000,000, and Great Britain, $9,000,000. As to Spanish war veterans he said there were more of them now on the pension rolls than were in Shafter's entire army in Cuba. Notwithstanding this statement which shows to what a ridiculous extent the pension business has been carried, the House yesterday passed 429 pension bills in 72 minutes.

REV. SIDNEY STRONG, of the Second Congregational Church of Chicago, in a recent sermon characterized the recent kirmess given by prominent society women in that city for the benefit of the Children's Memorial Hospital, as the most improper social gathering ever held. He described the women concerned as "half naked, painted, sensualized creatures, lull sisters to the benighted Fetish dancers of South Africa." Rather severe, but doubtless a well deserved rebuke.

PRESIDENT DIAZ, of Mexico, has recently caused the Mexican Congress to consider the anti-trust bill the terms of which are extremely drastic. Under it no sort of monopoly can hope to do business in Mexico, least of all any of the American trust organizations which operate across the border. The Mexicans have scented the trusts from afar and know their baneful influence.

IT was testified in the Smoot case that the head of the Mormon Church cut rates on salt until he put a rival out of business; that bishops settle commercial disputes and that the church has millions invested in corporations. This may all be so, but what has that to do with Mr. Smoot's fitness to hold his seat in the Senate?

From Washington.

Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

Washington, Feb. 10.

The House will now retire from the limelight and give the Senate a chance. For more than four weeks it has monopolized the attention of the country in its endeavors to carry out the various features of the administration programme. The work has been done. It has provided an emergency appropriation for carrying on the work on the Panama canal; it passed the Philippine tariff bill; it passed the double statehood bill, and last it passed the Hepburn railroad rate regulation measure upon which the Senate committee has agreed to submit a report on February 16. Three of the most important subjects pending in the Senate will be advanced a stage during the next week. The ship subsidy bill will be voted upon next Wednesday afternoon. There is no doubt that it will be passed, though it is said in the House that it will not be given consideration there at this session. As soon as the ship subsidy bill has been disposed of, the statehood bill will be taken up. The railroad bill will be reported from committee on Friday next and take its place on the calendar. In committees the investigation of Panama canal affairs will continue and there will be more hearings on the Philippine tariff bill. The programme in the House for next week contains some matters of general public interest. Monday, devoted to legislation for the District of Columbia, will be enlivened by a debate on the bill for the establishment of a whipping post for wife-beaters. On Tuesday the fortification appropriation bill will be taken up, to be followed by the army appropriation bill, carrying about $70,000,000 and embodying provisions to abolish the grade of lieutenant general and to prevent the retirement of brigadier generals at their own request until they shall have served one year in that capacity. The House will adjourn on Friday over Monday, in order that members who are invited may have an opportunity of attending the Longworth-Roosevelt nuptials.

Messenger boys and express-wagon drivers are arriving at the White House in an almost continuous procession with wedding presents for Miss Alice. Many of the packages bear foreign stamps and quite a large proportion of these are evidently of considerable value if the marks placed upon them are to be believed. Dressmakers, milliners and modists have almost hourly seances with Miss Roosevelt and the last gowns and dainty articles of the trousseau are rapidly nearing completion.

Congressman Nicholas Longworth is still a sick man, but his condition is improving and he takes things philosophically. With an occasional visit from his fiancee and frequent telephone messages to encourage him, he is quite willing to make the best of his enforced retirement. This morning he was without fever, but still in some distress, sufficient to make it advisable to remain in bed. At noon today Representative Longworth's condition was reported to be considerably improved. Mr. Longworth expects to be out on Monday.

The compromise proposition in connection with the pending railroad rate legislation upon which an effort is being made in the Senate committee to secure an unanimous agreement is said to provide that the railroads shall be given specific power to appeal to the courts as the "lawfulness" of an order made by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Neither house of Congress was in session today having adjourned yesterday till Monday.

Secretary Taft is seeking a war chest for possible military operations in China. When the time comes for the United States to land a column of infantry artillery in Chinese territory, there will be small chance for preparation or appropriation of money by Congress to defray the expences. An army officer, who within the past few years made an extensive tour of China in the interest of the Military Information Bureau, said today: "The Chinese masses are smoldering and it is only a question of time when the new spirit fostered by agitators will cause the people to burst forth in a seething flame of resentment against foreigners." Secretary Root and Secretary Taft are agreed upon the danger of this combustion and the necessity of strong measures by the United States to face the trouble when it arrives.

By a vote of 8 to 5 the House committee on merchant, marine and fisheries today ordered a favorable report on the bill removing compulsory pilotage from sailing vessels in the coastwise trade. The pilots' associations from all over the country have been fighting the measure vigorously.

The House committee on appropriations dropped its age on Secretary Shaw's emergency bill and lopped off about $50,000 that he asked for the payment of salaries in the custom houses, postoffices and appraisers' stores buildings throughout the country. Secretary Shaw has now announced that about 70 employes will be dropped and 350 reduced as a direct result of this economy, and although that announcement was made only yesterday and in the most quiet manner, his office is already being besieged by indignant members of Congress who have received hurry orders from home to "get busy" to save the faithful henchmen who see their jobs diminishing or vanishing altogether. The dismissals and reductions are distributed pretty evenly over the country. Nearly all the dismissals are in the force of janitors, charwomen laborers, and the reductions in the places of engineers, firemen, and custodians.

Central office men this morning arrested Robert Barker, alias Jackson, colored, formerly employed by Thomas McInnery, manager of the Seigel-Cooper Company, of New York, for the theft of $2,000 worth of diamonds from McInnery's home. Barker confessed that he had stolen the gems and that he had disposed of some of them.

The House committee on interstate and foreign commerce today authorized favorable reports on bills providing for new revenue cutters, one at Puget Sound, to cost $225,000, one at New Bedford, Mass., to cost $175,000, and one at Savannah, Ga., to cost $175,000; also for a tug at New Orleans.

The Senate committee on interstate commerce this morning resumed consideration of the Hepburn railroad rate bill. Senator Clapp carried out his intention, as announced yesterday, and was not present at today's meeting. He will not attend until the day is reached for a vote. The only other absentees were Senators Cullom and Carmack, both of whom are out of the city.

The resignation of James W. Davidson, United States consul at Antung, Manchuria, has been filed with the State Department. Mr. Davidson's resignation was accepted today by Secretary Root, who wrote a letter expressing his regret at the former's retirement. Inadequacy of compensation, it is said, forced the resignation.

News of the Day.

Three more midshipmen are cut off from graduation by charges of hazing, and the graduates who will get diplomas will now number an even 100.

Bishop Henry Yates Satterlee will officiate at the wedding of Miss Roosevelt and Congressman Longworth next Saturday. Mr. Longworth is now sick with tonsilitis.

Ebb Coley, formerly of the United States Coast Artillery, shot and killed a woman with whom he had been living at Santa Clara, Cal. He then committed suicide.

The Rev. Edward Milville Parker was consecrated bishop coadjutor of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of New Hampshire yesterday at St. Paul's Church in Concord, N. H

Vice Admiral Chouknin, commander of the Black Sea fleet, was attacked in his office by a woman yesterday and wounded. A mutinous spirit prevails in the fleet and many officers have been arrested. Fierce affrays between the Red and the Black Hundreds have occurred in St. Petersburg.

Paul Laurence Dunbar, the poet of the negro race, died at his home at Dayton, Ohio, yesterday, of consumption. For three years he had been seriously ill, and for a year critically ill, but he kept at his work intermittently, and wrote his last poem for his Christmas book, "Howdy, Honey, Honey," before Christmas. Dunbar was born in Dayton, June 27, 1872.

The urgent deficiency bill, carrying about $16,000,000, was passed by the Senate yesterday, after protracted discussion of an amendment to strike out the provision relieving the canal zone from the operation of the eight hour law, which was defeated. Yesterday was pension day in the House, 420 bills being passed in seventy-two minutes. A bill was passed increasing the Philippine duty on European cotton goods, and decreasing the tarift on shoes.

The House committee on military affairs reported favoribly yesterday the Foraker bill, providing for an appropriation of $200,000 for marking the graves of Confederate soldiers who died in Northern prisons and were buried at place of death. Representative Hay, of Virginia, will try to have the bill amended so as to provide that the prison dead shall be brought to Arlington Cemetery and be buried in the Confederate section there, where they will be cared for perpetually.

President Wilcox, of the Delaware and Hudson Company, in a letter to President Mitchell, of the United Mineworkers, suggests that the questions between the operators and the miners be referred to the strike commission, or conciliation board, and declares that the increase in wages demanded will increase the price of coal to the consumers. Mr. Wilcox also states that so far from being a benefit the demands of the union, if granted, would mean less wages and longer hours for the miners in the anthracite region.

Aurelio Herrera, the Mexican, and "Kid" Hermann, of Chicago, fought a 20-round draw at Los Angeles last night. It was mill a brim full of clever and hard fighting, with a flapjam finish. Hermann had the best of it up to the fifteenth round. Herrera turned himself loose in the sixteenth and never let up until the finish. The last two rounds the Mexican did his best to put in a knockout, and though Hermann was weakened by his opponent's onslaughts, he made a good finish. Referee Eyton threw up his hands and called the fight a draw.

There was no hearing in common pleas court No. 2, in Pittsburg, Pa., this morning on the preliminary injunction obtained yesterday for Patrick Dolan, president of District No. 5, United Mine Workers of America, whom the miners to wish remove from office. The hearing will take place next Wednesday.

John Brady, a waitor, was arrested this morning in St. Louis and identified as the "stabber" who has spread terror among working women in St. Louis during the last several weeks. Four of the victims identified Brady as their assailant.

St. Joseph's parochial school, on north Pearl street, Albany, N. Y., was destroyed by fire this morning. The school furnished instruction for about 250 Catholic boys. The origin of the fire is not known. No one was injured.

No Tidings of Dry Dock.

The Navy Department has been without news from the dry-dock Dewey since noon of January 22, and officers of the Navy Department think that the little fleet towing the dock should either have been sighted or have made a report from somewhere. At noon on January 22 the dock was 1,900 miles from Gibraltar. If an average speed of 100 miles a day, which can be made under favorable weather conditions, has been made, the dock should be at Gibraltar today. Report, of course, will be made from there by Commander Hosley, commanding the towing fleet. At the department it is said that if the dock had been in any sort of trouble one of the tugboats would have been rushed immediately to Madeira or some other place to communicate with Washington. On this account, the officers say, it is practically certain that nothing has happened to the dock.

THE LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

Senator Sadler yesterday offered a resolution to name a committtee of five, consisting of two Senators and three delegates, to consider and report a bill to separate the positions of superintendent of grounds and buildings and register of the land office. It was manifest, he said, that the duties under the new conditions were too great for one man. The resolution was agree to.

The Sadler bill, to increase the pay of the members of the general assembly, has been favorably reported from the finance committee. The bill provides that members shall receive just double what they now receive, which will bring the per diem up to $8. The presiding officer of each branch is to receive $12 a day for actual service. The bill was favorably reported to the Senate yesterday, and goes on the calendar.

Proceeding with the calendar the Senate engrossed the bill to provide for the issuing of county bonds for permanent road improvement and voted the measure reported adversely from committee to regulate the manner of bringing suits against incorporated cities or towns.

The bill to provide for signing the records of the board of supervisors in cases where the presiding officer has died, was passed.

Among the important bills engrossed were one to establish a State geological and geodetic survey.

Bills were introduced:

Relating to the sale of unwholesome and diseased meat and food.

To amend section 11 of an act, to provide for the extension of the corporate limits of cities and towns, so as to allow district and county officers to remove to any other part of such city, or town without vacating their offices.

To regulate and require connections between telephone and telegraph companies and the delivery of messages by telephone or telegraph companies subject to the orders of the State Corporation Commission.

Senator Sims introduced a bill fixing a penalty of five hundred dollars for conveying an excursion party from one point in the State to another point, unless there is adequate police protection at the destination of said excursion. The common carriers are not to stop trains within five miles of such points.

HOUSE.

The proceedings were rushed under a resolution providing that all bills to which any objection might be raised be passed by.

As stated in the Gazette of yesterday, Mr. Barrett's "Jim Crow" car bill was passed by an overwhelming vote. The measure practically gives to the cities and counties of the State the same regulations for the segregation of the races as are now in force in this city.

Mr. Swift, of Spottsylvania, who has attracted notoriety as the patron of the radical anti-trust bill, introduced a bill to prohibit the sale of apple cider within two miles of any church or camp-meeting while services are being held.

Traveling libraries for the public schools will be provided if a measure introduced by Mr. Old becomes a law. By the terms of the bill the library board of the State is authorized to procure books and equipment for the establishment of circulating libraries. The appropriation asked is $5,000. The scheme has been in successful operation in other States.

The Churchman 2-cent railroad rate bill was ordered to its engrossment in the House.

Mr. Green, of Fauquier, presented a a petition many yards long from citizens of Fauquier and Loudoun, praying for the passage of the Mann social club law.

The following House bills were passed:

Bill to prescribe the time in which allowances made by order of any Circuit or Corporation Court shall be presented to the Auditor of Public Accounts for payment.

To define and regulate mutual assessment and co-operative fire, tornado and hail insurance companies or associations.

To amend section 2083 of the code, prohibiting the fishing of purse or pound nets in water of 20 feet and over in depth in any of the rivers of the State.

To amend section 3317 of the code in reference to removal by courts, of their judges, without motion or notice, of suits, etc., which it is improper for them to try.

To amend section three of an act to appropriate the sum of ten thousand dollars to carry out the provisions of the act to provide a statue of Robert Edward Lee, to be placed in statuary hall in Washington.

To confer upon the State Corporation Commission power and authority to fix and prescribe the rates and charges of water supply companies and to prevent discriminatian therein.

To amend section 6 of chapter 598 of the acts in relation to working and keeping in repair the roads and bridges in Alexandria county.

Bills were introduced:

To repeal an act in relation to liens on real estate for capitation tax.

To authorize supervisors of the several counties to appropriate county funds in order to advertise said counties at the Jamestown Tercentary, etc.

The House finance committee yesterday decided to report favorably Colonel Caton's pension bill, which increases the appropriation for the old soldiers and their widows to the extent of $50,000.

An amendment to the code proposed in the senate by Mr. Keezell, of Rockingham, provides that the meat of an animal which has developed the disease of actinomy cosis or lumpy jaw shall be deemed corrupted and unwholesome, and shall come within the provisions of the act imposing a jail sentence of not more than six months and a fine not exceeding $100 upon any person who knowingly sells diseased food, whether meat or drink, without making it known to the buyer.

It is expected that the legislature will put a prohibitory tax on corporation companies which conduct the business by methods that have antagonized several of the bar associations of the State, and are for the most part decidedly unpopular with the individual lawyers of the Commonwealth. A tax of $2,500 is proposed. A bill with this end in view was favorably reported by the House committee on finance today, and it looks very much as if it will pass the House. Col. Caton drafted the bill.

The House committee on finance yesterday reported favorably two bills of importance as well as of public interest. One was that of Messrs. Caton and Byrd, to levy a flat license tax of $2,500 per cent. on companies undertaking to procure charters for corporations in the State, and the other, offered by Mr. Caton, increasing the amount for pensions by $50,000.

The former bill was offered to stop the operations of companies in the State said to be engaged in the business of advising corporations not to pay the taxes assessed upon them by the commission.

Today's Telegraphic News

The Battleship Dreadnaught.

Portsmouth, Eng., Feb. 10.—The battleship Dreadnaught, the newest addition to the British navy, and the first warship to be built entirely in accord with the lessons learned by naval experts from the Russo-Japanese war, was launched from the government dock yard here today. King Edward pressed the electric button that released the warship and sent her gliding gracefully into the water without mishap. The Dreadnaught is expected to revolutionize battleship construction in the future, and her launching was made the occasion for an unusual patriotic display. Besides King Edward prominent court officials, many titled persons and a host of naval experts attended the ceremony. The ceremony was a brilliant affair, but owing to the recent death of King Christian, of Denmark, father of Queen Alexandra, Portsmouth was not decorated. The ceremony was conducted briefly and with as little ostenation as possible. A few facts about the Dreadnaught are known. Her most distinguished characteristic is the heaviness of her armament. She mounts ten 12-inch rifles, six more than any other battleship afloat, and she has no subordinate 10 inch, 8 inch or 6 inch batteries. The only other guns are eighteen three inch quick-firers which will be used solely to repel torpedo boat attacks. Her huge batteries will be able to fire ten 850 pound shells every minute, capable of traveling 25 miles and of piercing sixteen inches of the hardest steel armor at two miles. Each gun has twice the power of any rifle aboard any other warship. The dropping of all guns below the 12-inch guns except the small quick-firers, has been due to the experience of Admiral Togo's warships that they are absolutely useless in a naval fight, as they cannot send shells far enough to do any considerable damage to an armored vessel. The engines of the Dreadnaught are turbines, this being the first time they have been adopted for an armored ship. They will give her a speed of nearly nineteen knots an hour. A special feature of the hull of the warship is that it is divided into permanently closed water-tight compartments. It is impossible to pass from one section of the ship to another below the water line except by coming up above the armored deck. This plan of construction by making it unnecessary to close the water-tight doors in the event of a disaster, cause the Dreadnaught to be always prepared to face an accident. British naval experts believe it is practically impossible for the Dreadnaught to sink, even if she strikes a floating mine.

Killed by Desperadoes.

Rockingham Junction, N. H., Feb. 10.—A genuine western hold-up took place at Rockingham Junction this morning on the "Sunrise" Express, which arrived here shortly after six o'clock. Early this morning the shoe factory of Luddy & Currier, in Dover, was entered and the safe blown, the burglars securing about $15. On arrival of the "Sunrise" express at Rockingham Junction Conductor Howard Reeves received word to detain two men who were on the train. Accompanied by Baggagemaster George T. Brackett, he entered the car and went where two men were sitting. He asked them to show their grips and overcoats. He then said he would have to detain them, whereupon both men drew revolvers and in loud voices commanded "hands up," which the train hands and passengers quickly did. The two men then commenced to walk out of the car at the opposite ends and one of the passengers, a Swede, becoming frightened, attempted to escape from the car. As he did so the taller of the two men shot him five times in the neck, killing him. The two men then ran down the track towards Statham. The police from Portsmouth, Dover, Newmarket, and Exeter are scouring the woods in this section for the desperadoes.

Execution of a Murderer.

Hackensack, N. J., Feb. 10.—Jerry Rossa, convicted of the murder of Demetrio Denofri, was hanged in the jail here this morning. The drop fell at 10:35 o'clock, and at 10:48 o'clock the body was taken down. Rossa walked stoically to the scaffold and did not display the slightest sign of nervousness. While standing on the trap, Rossa was asked if he had any statement to make. In a firm voice he declared that he was innocent of the crime. He then made one request. It was to hold a short conversation with Mrs Antoinette Tolla and Anna Valentina, both of whom have been convicted of murder and are under reprieve and who are confined in the jail in which the execution took place. Of course, the request was denied. The black cap was then adjusted, and the trap sprung. Rossa was attended during his last moments by Father J. E. Lambert, of the St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, and by Father Gartlamb, Chaplain of the Newman School here. With the exception of the fainting of W. J. Perdon one of the sheriffs, the execution passed off without a hitch. Officials of the Hackensack jail have received many letters from anarchists threatening to blow the jail to atoms with every one in it if any of their countrymen were hanged.

New Bond Issue.

New York, Feb. 10.—Announcement was made today that the Southern Railway Company has decided to ask the stockholders for authority to issue $200,000,000 development and general mortgage four per cent bonds. A special meeting of the stockholders had been called to ratify the propositions at Richmond, Va., on April 18. The Southern Railway already has stocks and bonds outstanding aggregating $350,000,000. About $85,000,000 of the new issues will be used to retire lien and mortgage bonds. Fifteen million dollars of the bonds are to be issued immediately for equipment, trucking, new shops, etc. The remaining $100,000,000, it is announced, will be used for future acquisitions and betterments. This bond issue is the largest announced in Wall street in many a day, and has caused a great deal of conjecture. It is understood that a syndicate headed by J. P. Morgan & Co., has been formed to purchase the $15,000,000 to be issued now.

Burned to Death.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 10.—At Glenboro, near Winnipeg, last night, S. C. H. Werdfeger, a farmer, and his wife were burned to death. A young Englishman, whose arms were badly burned, escaped from the house, with nothing but a shirt on. Mrs. Werdfeger, while surrounded by flames, threw her two-year old child out of a window. She was climbing out herself, when the flooring gave way, and she and her husband went down to an awful death. The young Englishman seized the child and with only a blanket around them, leaped on a horse and rode a long distance to a neighbor's. The cold was so intense, however, that he was badly frozen. The child will live.

Reported Mutiny.

Glasgow, Feb. 10.—A dispatch to the Herald from St. Petersburg states that a mutiny has broken out among the crews of the vessels composing the Russian Baltic fleet and that a number of the officers have been placed under arrest.

Count Tolstoi in an interview with the Herald correspondent declared that the present movement in Russia is not revolutionary; it is only the end of the age of empires.

The Russians, says the well known author, erred in trying to reproduce the American constitution and the return of land to the peasants, declared Tolstoi, is the only cure for Russia's misery.

Wants Kaiser to Visit America.

Berlin, Feb. 10.—Albrecht Wirth, the pan-German leaders has published an appeal to Kaiser William to visit America. Wirth argues that the presence of the Emperor in the United States would produce a pro-German enthusiasm which would result in an offensive and defensive American-German alliance which would rescue Germany from her present isolation and enable her to contemplate the Anglo-Japanese and Anglo-French entente with equanimity. Wirth urges the Kaiser to drop Germany's fossilized allies, like decaying Austria, and make a bold bid for the support of the United States.

Deficient in Study.

Annapolis, Md., Feb. 10.—Officials of the Naval Academy today announced that eleven midshipmen of the graduating class were found deficient in one or more branches of study at the recent examination and will not, therefore, receive their diplomas at the ceremonies on Monday. They will, however, be sent to sea and at the end of the year be given a special examination and it is believed they will overcome the deficiency and receive their commissions. In addition to these three more of the class are to answer charges of hazing and their diplomas will also be withheld pending the outcome of their cases.

Shot the Burglar.

Philadelphia, Feb. 10.—After putting two bullets into a colored burglar, who was trying to climb into her bedroom this morning, Miss Bertha Gillman, of Morton, ran into her parent's room and fainted.

The man is supposed to be fatally wounded judging from the amount of blood on the snow around the house, and the blood hounds will be put on his tracks this afternoon. Miss Gilman is twenty-one years old.

Count Boni de Castellane.

Paris, Feb. 10.—Count Boni de Castellane has left his father's house, where he has been staying part of the time since he left his former home, in order to allow his wife to occupy the mansion, and is now at the hotel La Perouse, near Etoil. The count is beginning to be hard up for cash. When he left home he had 25,000 francs in his pocket, but he has already run through this sum and he has been unable to borrow any more as he is said to already owe 5,000,000.

One-day Strike.

Berlin, Feb. 10.—The socialist party has resolved to proclaim a general strike throughout Germany for one day on April 18, the anniversary of the Berlin rebellion of 1846. On that day the workmen will hold a monster demonstration against the government. Socialist leaders regard the calling of the strike for one day as a rehearsal for a prolonged general strike which will come when a favorable opportunity presents itself.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by constant failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address:

Confessed He Killed Farmer.

Charles C. Deigen, charged with the murder of R. K. Lewis, at West Farmington, Ohio, has made a signed confession to Prosecuting Attorney Wilkins. He had maintained his innocence until Friday afternoon, when he broke down and confessed that he killed the wealthy farmer and stock dealer, whose body, covered with straw saturated with oil, was found in his burning house three weeks ago. Deigen's story is that he had lent Lewis $500 and that Lewis had agreed to sell him five acres of land near by and a horse for $850. Two papers had been signed between them, one showing a payment of $700 on the land and $100 on the horse. The night of the murder he met Lewis and walked home with him. Deigen demanded a deed for the property or his money back. Lewis refused both, and offered land elsewhere. Finally, Lewis picked up a log of wood. "I don't know whether he was going to hit me with it or put it in the fire," says Deigen, "but I picked up a round, smooth log and hit him over the head with it. Then I hit him three times more."

Resist Taxation.

A dispatch from Pietermaritzburg, Natal, says the collection of the poll tax from natives near Richmond has led to trouble, which it is feared will spread and possibly develop into an ugly native rising. Armed natives have resisted the collection of the tax and have wounded with spears an inspector of police and a trooper. Fourteen mounted police, who were proceeding to the scenes, have been attacked. Cavalry and artillery and outlying detachments of police have been called in, martial law has been declared. The police re-enforcements have found the bodies of six soldiers who were reported missing. The men had been cruelly stabbed to death. Fighting has not been renewed, but serious trouble is feared.

A dispatch from Capetown, Cape Colony, says that the demands of the colored inhabitants of the Transvaal and the Orange River colonies for full political rights are becoming more insistent. The African Colored Political Association, representing all South Africa, is preparing a monster petition to King Edward, asking for all the political rights enjoyed by the whites, which will be presented in London by a deputation of colored men from South Africa.

Free! Handsome!

The North American, of Philadelphia, on Sunday next will publish as a part of its regular edition a handsome photogravure reproduction of the best likeness of Miss Roosevelt. The bride herself selected from scores what she considered the best photograph of herself, and it is from this that the reproduction has been made. It has been excellently printed on high-quality paper in photograph brown, the tone that reproduces the original, and by a process that renders it more artistic. It is a picture that is worthy of preservation in any home and will certainly be kept by thousands as a reminder of the most brilliant of White House weddings.

In the same issue of the paper there will be a full detailed account of the wedding ceremony of the previous day, and illustrations showing the magnificence of the ceremony and the incidental festivities. The best descriptive writers of The North American's staff and its ablest artists will contribute their best efforts.

Anniversary.

Forty-four years ago tonight the Gazette office was burned by federal soldiers whose animosity the paper had incurred by printing an account of a high-handed outrage which had been perpetrated the day before in St. Paul's Church where an Episcopal minister had been arrested while conducting service and marched through the streets in his canonicals. The office and its contents were entirely destroyed, but the paper soon reappeared and continued to be printed until about the first of November, 1864, when its publication was again interrupted by the arrest of its editor as a hostage, he being compelled to make a round trip daily in a box car to Strasburg in company with several other Alexandrians. This measure had been adopted by the military in order to deter Colonel Mosby from firing into the train or derailing it. The old Gazette, however, with but three short intermissions continued during those dark days to show the age and body of the times, as it is now doing.

The Baptist Church.

Another very large congregation attended the meeting at the First Baptist Church last night. Dr. Blackwell preached his closing sermon, and the large audience was deeply moved, and at the close of the service, most of the people came forward and bade Dr. Blackwell farewell, wishing him God speed in his glorious work. His plain, yet eloquent preaching has greatly helped the people of every name who have attended, and this wonderfully gifted preacher will long be remembered in Alexandria. The meeting has been very successful. About sixty-five persons have connected themselves with the First Baptist Church, the majority of them young men, and others have gone or will go to the other churches. The results tomorrow night will determine whether the meetings will be continued during next week. After the night service tomorrow the pastor will baptize a number of candidates.

Death of Mr. Shirley.

Mr. J. A. Talkington Shirley, who had been in declining health for some time, died at his home, No. 305 north St. Asaph street, at 1:30 o'clock this morning. The deceased leaves a widow (daughter of Mr. Wm. Allen) and one child. He was 24 years old, and was a son of the late Norvall B. Shirley. During early life he worked at printing, and at times was employed in the Gazette office. Industrious and trustworthy, he enjoyed the confidence of all with whom he came in contact. Shortly after entering manhood he became an employee of the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railway Company, and had been promoted to the position of conductor when failing health forced him to relinquish it. His widow was during a part of her girlhood days an attache of this office, and her former associates, now that her young life has been clouded with sorrow, sincerely sympathize with her.

Kersands' Minstrels.

Lovers of the best minstrel performances are finding fault, not only here but in other cities, of the too-frequent appearance of the cheap and vulgar minstrel companies, and are clamoring for the best. It is a pleasure to announce in this connection the appearance at the Opera House tonight of the only and original Billy Kersands' Famous Minstrels, with a brilliant company of thirty-five people and Prof. Lacy's Challenge Cornet Band, and a stupendous scenic and electrical equipment and all the details needed to insure an absolutely perfect performance. Everywhere that Billy Kersands' Minstrels have appeared the local press has teemed with praise of the ability of the whole company. The parade today was large and the music excellent.

A dispatch from Elizabeth, N. C., says: "Rev. L. L. Williams, rector of Christ Church, who has had charge of the parish more than sixteen years, has accepted a call to Gonzales, Texas, and will leave early next week to take his new charge. The late Bishop Watson was an ardent admirer and warm friend of the rector, and through deference to his wishes, Mr. Williams remained in this parish until after the bishop's death. Mr. and Mrs. Williams expect to leave here in a few days for a visit to the parents of Mrs. Williams, Maj. and Mrs. John W. Green, of Alexandria, Va., after which they will proceed to Gonzales, Texas, to make a new home and new friends." Rev. Lewis Llwellyn Williams and his wife are well known and have many friends in Alexandria, Washington and in Virginia. The New Bridge.

Capt. Spencer Cosby, the engineer officer in charge of the construction of the Highway bridge across the Potomac, has reported to Gen. Mackenzie, chief of engineers, that the bridge proper is completed, and is now practically ready for general travel. The bridge was built by the Pennsylvania Steel Company, of Philadelphia, and the contract price for the entire structure was $914,200. The contractors have turned the bridge over to the government and have been finally released from their contract. The fate of the Long bridge is now before Congress. Under existing law the Pennsylvania Railroad Company must remove that long-used and much-abused structure by Monday next, the limit of time fixed by the acts governing the construction of the substitute railroad bridge. The railroad company is prepared to fulfill its obligations, as it no longer uses nor needs the old Long bridge. The electric railway company will also abandon it in a few days. In view, however, of the unsubstantial character of the present approaches to the new Highway bridge, there is a general and urgent demand on the part of business men, especially the brick makers of Alexandria county, for the continued use of the causeway of the Long bridge, which is paved with granite blocks, until the approaches of the Highway bridge have settled and demonstrated that they can stand the strain of the heavy traffic passing that way.

Buys Out Its Rival.

After declining one proposition recently because the price was too high, the Winchester and Washington City Railway Company yesterday practically closed a deal for the purchase of the entire electric department and building containing it of the Winchester Gas and Electric Light Company, of which Charles H. Dickey, of Baltimore, is president. The price was not divulged.

This means that the selling corporation will retire from the electric lighting business and the purchasing company will have a clear field when it begins—on June 1—its contract to furnish electricity for Winchester and numerous other cities and towns from its great waterpower plant at the Shenandoah river, in Jefferson county, West Virginia.

People living on Fayette street, now that the railroad gatemen have been taken off that thoroughfare, desire to see the boxes removed. Some boxes still remain on Henry street, although no trains have been run over the tracks on that street since early last fall.

Miss Helen Jennie Strother died at her home, near Winchester, on the farm which adjoins the Milroy Fort, of civil war fame. Miss Strother lived there during the entire war, and had numerous narrow escapes from shells and bullets penetrating her father's house.

Ralph Alexander, about eighteen years old, died last night at the home of his brother-in-law, R. D. Brinkley, in Newport News, from the effects of a self-inflicted pistol wound in his left breast. He left a note to his sister in which he said he knew his faults, but could not correct them. Up to two months ago the young man was a messenger boy in Norfolk. Then he went to Newport News to work in the shipyard He left home Thursday as usual, but it was found that he had put on his best clothing and had carried off a pistol belonging to his brother-in-law. Yesterday he walked into his sister's residence and informed her that he had shot himself. He said the deed was done in a vacant house some time Thursday night.

No Attack on Apple Cider.

The headquarters committee of the Virginia Anti-Saloon League realizes that the attitude of the league toward the sale of apple cider has been incorrectly interpreted, and that this has resulted in misleading the press in its statements. For this reason we respectfully request the press of our State to publish the following.

Item 4 on petition now in circulation reads "To prohibit the sale of so-called pure cider, or similar mixtures, without a liquor license." It is our purpose to have a measure so safeguarded as not to prohibit the farmer from making and selling apple cider, but to prohibit the sale of the so called "pure" or chemical cider and other intoxicating mixtures which are being sent out under fictitious names by wholesale houses to our country districts and sold to the detriment of the sobriety and health of many citizens.

Tried to Kill Minister.

A desperate attempt upon the life of Rev. J. L. Lineweaver was made at Pickens, Randolph county, W. Va., a few nights ago by a saloon keeper. Rev. Mr. Lineweaver, who is a native of Harrisonburg, Va., graduated a few years ago from Union Theological Seminary at Richmond, and since that time has been in charge of the Presbyterian missions in that vicinity. He incurred the enmity of the saloon men by preaching in a series of revival services against the improper conduct of the many saloons in Pickens, which is in the heart of the lumber country of West Virginia. Mr. Lineweaver was called to the parsonage door and the man asked him his name. The minister replied, whereupon the visitor opened fire without a moment's warning. The bullet missed its mark, but passed through a partition almost directly over the head of the minister's wife, who was sitting in a chair nursing a baby. A number of citizens rushed to Mr. Lineweaver's assistance and his assailant was given a severe beating, after which he was locked up in jail. He will be tried in Elkins on the charge of attempted murder.

Nature needs only a Little Early Riser now and then to keep the bowels clean, the liver active, and the system free from bile, headaches, constipation. Early Riser Pills never gripe.

Hounds Sold.

The pack of fox hounds, owned by Mr. Harry Smith, M. F. H., of the Grafton Hunt Club, of New York, which won the contest over the English hounds of Mr. Henry Higginson, of the Middlesex Hunt Club, near Upperville, on June last, has been sold to Mr. John P. Townsend, master of fox hounds of the Orange Hunt Club, of New York, and master of The Plains (Va) pack. The price paid was $2,000. The best hounds of the pack, 30 in all, are Sinner, Spic, Sam, Simple and Sim, and for each Mr. Smith received $150. Several puppies, which are unstrained, brought $50 each. Mr. Townsend will take the pack to the Plains, in Fauquier county, for the spring season.

The End of The World of troubles that robbed E. H. Wolfe, of Bear Grove, Ia., of all usefulness, came when he began taking Electric Bitters. He writes: "Two years ago Kidney trouble caused me great suffering, which I would never have survived had I not taken Electric Bitters. They also cured me of General Debility." Sure cure for all Stomach, Liver and Kidney Complaints, Blood diseases, Headache, Dizziness and Weakness or bodily decline. Price 50c. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store.

Pathetic Incident.

The death of Mrs. Amelia Gosnell, wife of Albert Gosnell, near Daniel, Md., which occurred on Tuesday, was attended by unusually pathetic circumstances. Mr. Gosnell, who was called away from his home in the morning, left his wife and two little children in good health. When he returned home in the evening the wife and mother lay on the floor dead, while the older one of the children, aged between 2 and 3 years, was nestling against her, as if seeking to gain warmth. The other child, aged about eight months, was seated in a high chair at the table, and had evidently been in that position all day. From the condition of Mrs. Gosnell's body she must have died soon after her husband left the house. The fuel in the stove had long been burned to ashes, the room was intensely cold, and the children were almost frozen. Mrs. Gosnell was about 30 years old. Her death was caused by apoplexy.

Startling But True.

People the world over were horrified on learning of the burning of a Chicago theater in which nearly six hundred people lost their lives, yet more than five times this number or over 3,000 people died from pneumonia in Chicago during the same year, with scarcely a passing notice. Every one of these cases of pneumonia resulted from a cold and could have been prevented by the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. A great many who had every reason to fear pneumonia have warded it off by the prompt use of this remedy. The following is an instance of this sort: "Too much cannot be said in favor of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and especially for colds and influenza. I know that it cured my daughter, Laura, of a severe cold, and I believe saved her life when she was threatened with pneumonia," W. D. WILCOX, Logan, New York, Sold by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

No false pretence has marked the career of Ely's Cream Balm. No idle promises of rewards for cases it will not cure. Being entirely harmless, it is not responsible like the catarrh snuffs and powders, for minds shattered by cocaine. The great positive virtue of Ely's Cream Balm is that it speedily and completely cures nasal catarrh and hay fever. Back of this statement is the testimony of thousands and a reputation of many years' success. All druggists, 50c, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS

AN OLD AND WELL-TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over sixty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind.

WORKS WONDERS EVERY TIME

How Gowan's Pneumonia Cure Cures Colds, Sore Throat, Croup, Pneumonia—All of them Ills that Come from Colds—And the Reasons Why

When you have a cough or a pain in the chest, your cold is settling there—and this is very dangerous. Most of the deaths in winter begin just this way.

Wherever your cold is centered, there you must apply the remedy. Either on your chest or throat. Now when you take an internal remedy it has to pass through the stomach. Often it wrecks your digestion and never gets to your lungs at all.

Gowan's Pneumonia Cure is external. It penetrates—goes right in to the seat of the trouble, and soothes at once the irritated lungs or throat. It casts out the germs of cold, consumption, pneumonia—all evil germs. That is, it makes the lungs strong to cast these germs out.

READ THESE TWO LETTERS

"I will spare no pains to call the attention of my friends to this valuable medicine.
"Mrs. J. R. GILL, Superintendent Male Orphan Asylum, Richmond, Va."

"I have used Gowan's Pneumonia Cure, and I think it is the best medicine in the world. I feel sure it saved my mother's life last fall.
"P. O. LEAK, with Lipfert-Scales Co., Winston-Salem, N. C."

Gowan's is powerful, but also harmless. It is an absolute safeguard against croup. Every mother should keep a bottle in the house. Cure your cold, cough, chest pains—to-day. Immediate relief—sure cure in Gowan's. Large bottle, $1.00; croup size, 25 cents. Sent by mail, if desired.
